

OIL BOOM PROMISED; 25-BARREL WELL FOUND

Pumping Begun and Sinking of Other Wells is Being Rushed

The Smith's Grove Oil Co., whose principal stockholders are Ohio Countians, brought in what is believed to be the best oil well in this section last week. They began drilling on the Lewis Brown farm near Coacord some time ago and at the depth of 445 ft. struck a rich oil producing sand. This was penetrated and found to be 21 feet thick. The well was "shot" Wednesday and since that time the well has been thoroughly rid of water and during the first 12 hours filled about two thirds of its depth with oil. The drilling apparatus has been removed and pumping will begin today. Expert oil men are enthused over the new find and the owners of the well estimate that it will produce at least 40 or 50 barrels per day. It is believed that this well is on the edge of a vast oil pool and the company will begin drilling another nearby within a few days. Many experienced oil men from various parts of the country have been here to see the new strike and all are of the opinion that there are great possibilities in the new well and surrounding territory.

THIRD MOONSHINE STILL CAPTURED ON GREEN RIVER

Sheriffs of Ohio and Muhlenberg Counties Destroy Fifty Gallon Outfit

The good work continues. On last Thursday afternoon a moonshine still was captured at Kincheloe's Bluff, about a half mile from Green River, in the southern part of the county. It was found in the midst of an almost impenetrable cane brake. The outfit was first located in Muhlenberg County by Sheriff Arthur Lyle of that county, but his pursuit of the rum-runners became so hot, that it was spirited away to this county. Sheriff Lyle continued in pursuit and again ran his quarry to earth. He then notified Sheriff S. A. Bratcher, in the meantime standing guard over the captured booty. Sheriff Bratcher, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Frank Tichenor, and Special Deputies George Johnson and James Crow, immediately went to the scene where they found the largest and most completely equipped still yet captured in this county. The heating tank was constructed of zinc and had a capacity of about fifty gallons. The worm, which was about twenty feet long, was made of copper. It was about three quarters of an inch in diameter. The boiler was set up in a furnace constructed of earth and was almost enclosed by it, making it possible to develop a high degree of heat and to operate the still rapidly. Nine barrels of mash, approximately four hundred and fifty gallons, were found, also a number of bottles, jugs and fruit jars, but none of the finished product. The still showed indications of recent and frequent use. The furnace and boiler were destroyed, but the worm and connections were brought to Hartford. It is reported that the officers are in possession of clues which may soon lead to the arrest of the operators.

McHENRY P. T. A. PICNIC

The picnic given by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Central Park Graded School at Williams' Mines park last Saturday was a huge success. There was a crowd of between 1,200 and 1,500 present and an abundance of good things to eat and drink. The various games and contests were greatly enjoyed, especially the Candidates' Foot Race. The entrants were Judge R. R. Wedding, Sep T. Williams, E. G. Barrass, M. F. Chumley and Judge Mack Cook. Reports conflict as to whether Judge Cook or Sep Williams won the speed try-out. The base ball game scheduled for 10 a. m. was called off on account of the condition of the diamond, but in the afternoon the McHenry Majestics and Rob Roy tried their luck, the former proving their superior prowess by winning to the tune of 16 to 7. The picnic netted its sponsors the neat sum of $70.

Mr. R. H. Rains made the Herald an appreciated call Tuesday.

LIGHTNING KILLS BROTHERS HUNTING NEAR SIMMONS

Willie and Everett Hopper Had Sought Refuge From Storm; Found at Foot of Tree

Willie Hopper, aged twenty-three, and Everett Hopper, aged 12, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hopper, were killed by lightning near Simmons, during the storm last Wednesday afternoon. The two boys were hunting early in the afternoon and when they failed to return at nightfall, searching parties were formed and began to scour the vicinity, but without avail until about 5 o'clock Thursday morning, when the bodies of the missing young men were found at the foot of a tree. One of the bodies was in a sitting posture, the other lying on the ground. The tree showed that it had been struck by lightning; the bodies were very little burned, but many bones were broken. The gun carried by one of the boys was almost destroyed by the electric bolt. Apparently the victims had sought shelter from the rain under the tree and were instantly killed. The successful searching party was led by Thomas Purcell. The elder of the boys leaves a wife. Besides their parents they are survived by several brothers and sisters. Their remains were laid to rest Friday at Providence in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing friends and relatives.

OHIO COUNTY TEAM LOSES

There was a most exciting game of baseball at Riverside Park, Hartford, on Sunday afternoon when the high-powered Beaver Dam diamond artists stacked up against the sluggers composing the Anglo-American Mill team, of Owensboro. A large crowd of fans from all over the county was on hand to encourage the home talent, and they witnessed a beautiful exhibition of base ball up to the sixth inning, neither side having scored. Then neither side having scored. At that point Pitcher Glendon Stevens, who had allowed but one hit, retired in favor of Dossett, pursuant to an agreement made between the two Beaver Dam hurlers before the game. Then the balloon ascended and when the smoke cleared up, the Anglos had chalked up six counters. They added two more later, making the final score 8 to 0 in favor of the visitors. James Glenn did the receiving for Beaver Dam. The battery for Owensboro Lewis and Boyd.

BEAVER DAM VS. LOGANSPOUT

The Beaver Dam base ball aggregation journeyed to Logansport last Saturday and tied up with the diamond artists of that ballfield, resulting in a victory for the Butler Countylites. It was a hard game for Beaver Dam to lose. In the last half of the ninth, with the score 7 to 6 in favor of the Ohio County boys, a Logansport slugger lined out a home run with two on, making the final count 9 to 7 in favor of the hosts. Battery for Beaver Dam Gleun and Cissel.

G. O. P. REVENUE

MEN CARED FOR

Marvin Black received his commission Friday afternoon and took the oath of office as local zone deputy for the United States Government. Mr. Black takes the position made vacant by the retirement of J. C. Drewry, who was a Louisville deputy collector sent to the Owensboro office by former Collector Elwood Hamilton. Mr. Black will have charge of the investigations of income tax, ordered by the collector. The position of zone deputy made vacant by the transfer of L. P. Loney to the storekeeper-gauger force will not be filled at this time, if at all. The department at Washington is of the opinion that there was not sufficient business for two zone deputies, at the time of Mr. Loney's transfer.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Mr. Black is an Ohio County boy and his many friends in this section are gratified to hear of his promotion.

She was living with her daughter, Mrs. James B. York, and Mr. York, of near Sulphur Springs, at the time of her death.

DENBY ORDERS ADMIRAL

SIMS' RETURN HOME

Reply to Secretary of Navy Not Yet Received; Vacation Revoked

Washington, June 11.—An implied rebuke was administered today in an official way to Rear Admiral William S. Sims for the remarks he made in a speech in London this week.

Acting on his own initiative Secretary E. L. Denby cabled Admiral Sims that his leave of absence was revoked and directed him to "report in person" to the Secretary of the Navy. Admiral Sims was told to acknowledge receipt of these orders. The acute cause of Mr. Denby's action was failure of the Admiral to respond to a cable message sent to him last Wednesday by Mr. Denby, asking him if he had been correctly reported in his remarks attacking Sinn Féin sympathizers in the United States.

How Denby Message Read

Mr. Denby's message to Admiral Sims was made public soon after it had been filed for transmission. It follows: "Remainder your leave revoked. You will return to the United States immediately and report at once in person to the Secretary of the Navy. Acknowledge."

Yesterday Admiral Sims made a speech at the American Luncheon Club in London, in which, according to the cabled reports, he said that he should "keep on doing the same thing," that is, "telling the truth," as he expressed it.

The explanation was made in Mr. Denby's office that the Secretary had not recalled Admiral Sims because of his previous speech or the speech yesterday, but because Admiral Sims had failed to reply to Mr. Denby's instructions to give his version of his remarks earlier in the week. His Time to Reply Up

It was explained that Mr. Denby had sent this cable Wednesday and that sufficient time had elapsed to receive a reply from Admiral Sims. "I did not consult anybody as to this action," said Mr. Denby, when he was asked concerning his recall of Admiral Sims. "I simply did what I conceived to be my duty as Secretary of the Navy."

MASONS TO BE VISITED

BY THEIR WARD

On the third Monday night, June 20, Miss Katie Lee Loyd, ward of the Masonic Lodges of Ohio County, will be the guest of Hartford Lodge, No. 675. Miss Loyd is a native of Ohio County and was sent to the Masonic Widows and Orphans' home, in Louisville, from A. G. Hodges Lodge, of Whitesville. As announced through the local papers some time ago, the various lodges of the county have perfected arrangements to pay the expenses through a four year high school course of some boy or girl from the home and as there were no wards of lodges in this county, Miss Loyd was selected, as she was born in the county, though sent to the home from a lodge a short distance across the line in Dayless County.

At the meeting next Monday night which will be held at the local Masonic—K. of P. Hall, routine business of the lodge will be transacted from 7 to 8:30 o'clock, after which there will be an open session to which all Masons of Ohio County and their families are cordially invited. It is hoped that a large gathering will be present to greet and welcome Miss Loyd.

MINIMUM ARMY 170,000 MEN NEXT FISCAL YEAR

Withdrawal of American Troops Again Touched on By Two Democratic Senators

Washington, June 7.—By a margin of four votes the senate today accepted an amendment to the army appropriations bill recommended by its military affairs committee, providing for a minimum army for the next fiscal year of 170,000 men.

Two Democrats, Fletcher, Florida, Meyers, Montana, joined with thirty-two Republicans in supporting the committee amendment while eleven Republican and nineteen Democrats voted against the 170,000 figure. The vote on the amendment followed two days of heated debate, precipitated by a group of senators who advocated economy in governmental expenditures and argued that the United States was not in need of an army of 170,000 men. This group after today's roll call said they would seek another vote on the provision. The army at present has an enlisted strength of about 220,000 men and the bill as passed by the house provided for an average of 150,000 men.

Rapid progress was made today in considering the bill, which as reported by the military committee affords, carried a total of $355,000,000. Chairman Wadsworth tonight was hopeful that a final vote might be obtained before adjournment tomorrow. Practically all committee recommendations were approved by the senate today and amendments offered from the floor will be taken up tomorrow.

Withdrawal of American troops from Germany was touched on at some length today by Senators Reed, Missouri, and Watson, Georgia, Democrats. Both decried delay in passage of the resolution establishing peace with Germany and Austria and the Georgia Senator charged that a "mysterious connection" existed between delay in adoption of the resolution and maintenance of American troops on the Rhine.

Washington, June 8.—Rejecting committee provisions for a minimum army of 170,000 men for the next fiscal year, the senate today passed the army appropriation bill carrying a total of $334,000,000 and making provision for an army of not less than 150,000 men. The house had previously provided for an average strength of 150,000.

Advocates of economy and a small army poured a hot attack on the committee provision for an enlisted personnel of 170,000 and then mustering their forces, voted down, 34 to 32, the committee amendment. By a like majority of four votes, the senate yesterday had accepted the 170,000 figure, so that today's vote constituted a direct reversal.

BILL IN HOUSE TO BAR JULY 2 FIGHT

Washington, June 8.—A resolution designed to prohibit the Dempsey-Carpenter fight at Jersey City July 2 unless Congress meanwhile shall have "fairly treated" Americans who served in the World War was introduced in the House today by Representative Gallivan, Democrat, Massachusetts.

In a statement Representative Gallivan characterized Dempsey as "a big bum who dodged the draft" and declared that France had been at war for months before Carpenter joined the colors.

"The men who will pay $50 for a ringside seat to look at these two 'fighters' overwhelmed members of the last Congress with their letters of protest against paying a mere pittance of a soldier's bonus to real champions," Mr. Gallivan said. "It would not have cost these men individually $50 to have helped meet the cost of a soldier bonus bill."

"I am opposed to this international bout on American soil, where millions of American money to be wasted until the American service men and women have been fairly treated by the American Government."

CRIME WAVE IN LOUISVILLE LAID TO POLICE FORCE

Lack of Co-operation of Department Prevents Indictments Report Says

Louisville, Ky., June 9.—Naming the locations of many alleged public gambling places in the heart of Louisville, the May grand jury, in its report submitted to Judge Harry W. Robinson charges that "dice games" and other forms of gambling are being indulged in promiscuously in the city. It also alleges that through the lack of co-operation and vigilance on the part of the police and detective departments it was unable to bring indictments for such practices.

The grand jurors also laid the chief blame for the "crime wave" in Louisville at the doors of the City Hall, a line in the report stating that "we believe the present crime wave in Louisville (and our information is that open, unrestricted and unmolested gambling is a large part) is due mostly to the inefficiency of our police and detectives."

More Disclosures Promised
A formal statement, issued last night by the Board of Public Safety, makes the comment that "the Democratic campaign has opened sooner than was anticipated." It disputes statements in the report which are upheld by L. D. Bax, foreman, who threatens "more startling disclosures."

COULD USE TOMATO SEEDS

Department of Agriculture Points Out
How They May Be Made a
Source of Revenue.

That much valuable material is being wasted annually by throwing away tomato seeds extracted in pulping, soup, catsup and canning plants is indicated by investigations made by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Department investigators have found that more than one thousand tons of seed are thrown away annually in northern tomato-pulping plants, with large enough output of seed to pay for shipping, and that they may be made into edible oil and stock food worth about $86,000 (December, 1919). Cost of collecting and preparing the seed is estimated at about $35,000, including all proper charges, and the cost of the necessary equipment is given at not to exceed $50,000.

In addition the same plant, which would run not more than five months in the year, could be used for the handling of grape seeds and pumpkin seeds, which would distribute the overhead and cut down the cost of manufacture of the tomato-seed products.

The vote on the amendment followed two days of heated debate, precipitated by a group of senators who advocated economy in governmental expenditures and argued that the United States was not in need of an army of 170,000 men. This group after today's roll call said they would seek another vote on the provision. The army at present has an enlisted strength of about 220,000 men and the bill as passed by the house provided for an average of 150,000 men.

Rapid progress was made today in considering the bill, which as reported by the military committee affairs, carried a total of $355,000,000. Chairman Wadsworth tonight was hopeful, that a final vote might be obtained before adjournment tomorrow. Practically all committee recommendations were approved by the senate today and amendments offered from the floor will be taken up tomorrow.

Withdrawal of American troops from Germany was touched on at some length today by Senators Reed, Missouri, and Watson, Georgia, Democrats. Both decried delay in passage of the resolution establishing peace with Germany and Austria and the Georgia Senator charged that a "mysterious connection" existed between delay in adoption of the resolution and maintenance of American troops on the Rhine.

Washington, June 8.—Rejecting committee provisions for a minimum army of 170,000 men for the next fiscal year, the senate today passed the army appropriation bill carrying a total of $334,000,000 and making provision for an army of not less than 150,000 men. The house had previously provided for an average strength of 150,000.

Advocates of economy and a small army poured a hot attack on the committee provision for an enlisted personnel of 170,000 and then mustering their forces, voted down, 36 to 32, the committee amendment. By a like majority of four votes, the senate yesterday had accepted the 170,000 figure, so that today's vote constituted a direct reversal.

BILL IN HOUSE TO BAR JULY 2 FIGHT

Washington, June 8.—A resolution designed to prohibit the Dempsey-Carpentier fight at Jersey City July 2 unless Congress meanwhile shall have "fairly treated" Americans who served in the World War was introduced in the House today by Representative Gallivan, Democrat, Massachusetts.

In a statement Representative Gallivan characterized Dempsey as "a big bum who dodged the draft" and declared that France had been at war for months before Carpentier joined the colors.

"The men who will pay $50 for a ringside seat to look at these two fighters" overwhelmed members of the last Congress with their letters of protest against paying a mere pittance of a soldiers' bonus to real champions," Mr. Gallivan said. "It would not have cost these men individually $50 to have helped meet the cost of a soldier bonus bill."

"I am opposed to this international bout on American soil, where millions of American money to be wasted until the American service men and women have been fairly treated by the American Government."

County Farm Bureaus Save You Money

A report by the States Relations Service of the Department of Agriculture, summarizing the work of the county agents in 1920, shows that during the year the county farm bureaus and the county agents helped to organize 1,988 co-operative associations. These co-operative associations did a business totaling $39,562,364, resulting in a saving to the farmers of $2,899,764. The total business done by all co-operative associations co-operating with the Farm Bureau and the county agent amounted to $375,714,660, and resulted in a saving to the farmers of $21,152,773. At different times I was troubled with sharp pains in my back and my kidneys acted too freely. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills from a friend and bought a box at the Ohio County Drug Co. I have used Doan's occasionally when troubled with my back and kidneys and this excellent remedy has never failed to help me. I am glad to praise a reliable medicine like Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given November 16, 1916.)

On January 25, 1921, Mr. Gillespie said: "I haven't had to use Doan's Kidney Pills since I last endorsed them. I consider I am cured of the trouble and give Doan's the credit."

CRIME WAVE IN LOUISVILLE LAID TO POLICE FORCE

Lack of Co-operation of Department Prevents Indictments Report Says

Louisville, Ky., June 9.—Naming the locations of many alleged public gambling places in the heart of Louisville, the May grand jury, in its report submitted to Judge Harry W. Robinson charges that "dice games" and other forms of gambling are being indulged in promiscuously in the city. It also alleges that through the lack of co-operation and vigilance on the part of the police and detective departments it was unable to bring indictments for such practices.

The grand jurors also laid the chief blame for the "crime wave" in Louisville at the doors of the City Hall, a line in the report stating that "we believe the present crime wave in Louisville (and our information is that open, unrestricted and unmolested gambling is a large part) is due mostly to the inefficiency of our police and detectives."

More Disclosures Promised
A formal statement, issued last night by the Board of Public Safety, makes the comment that "the Democratic campaign has opened sooner than was anticipated." It disputes statements in the report which are upheld by L. D. Bax, foreman, who threatens "more startling disclosures."

These are the places and neighborhoods, mentioned in the grand jury's report, where public gambling is alleged to be permitted:

West and Grayson Streets; No. 703 West Liberty Street; Seventh Street, between Walnut and Grayson Streets (poolroom); Seventh and Walnut Streets (poolroom); Ninth and Madison Streets; Walnut and Tenth Streets (saloon); Ninth and Walnut Streets; No. 644 Center Street; Twelfth and Madison Streets; Tenth and Liberty Streets; Eleventh and Chestnut Streets; Ninth Street, between Walnut and Grayson; Eleventh and Walnut Streets; southeast corner Seventh and Zane Streets, Hotel Henry Watterson.

COULD USE TOMATO SEEDS

Department of Agriculture Points Out
How They May Be Made a
Source of Revenue.

That much valuable material is being wasted annually by throwing away tomato seeds extracted in pulping, soup, catsup and canning plants is indicated by investigations made by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Department investigators have found that more than one thousand tons of seed are thrown away annually in northern tomato-pulping plants, with large enough output of seed to pay for shipping, and that they may be made into edible oil and stock food worth about $86,000 (December, 1919). Cost of collecting and preparing the seed is estimated at about $35,000, including all proper charges, and the cost of the necessary equipment is given at not to exceed $50,000.

In addition the same plant, which would run not more than five months in the year, could be used for the handling of grape seeds and pumpkin seeds, which would distribute the overhead and cut down the cost of manufacture of the tomato-seed products.

ALVIN T. HERT DIES SUDDENLY IN WASHINGTON

Republican National Committeeman and One of Most Prominent Men in State

Washington, June 7.—Alvin T. Hert, of Louisville, Ky., prominent business man, and Republican National committeeman from that state, died suddenly today at the New Willard hotel here.

Mr. Hert was fifty-six years of age. He had come here to attend the meeting of the Republican National committee tomorrow.

Death was said to have been due to apoplexy. He was taken ill on a train while coming here Sunday night for the meeting and since had been confined to his room.

Only recently Mr. Hert had declined to consider appointment by President Harding as ambassador to a foreign country, or as the president's representative on the government reorganization commission. During the last presidential campaign he was a member of the Republican executive committee of five and at the national convention, was the floor leader for Governor Lowden, of Illinois. He had also been prominently mentioned after the election as a cabinet possibility and later as the next Republican national chairman, but he declared that he could not accept the latter if it was tendered to him. In the 1915 presidential campaign he was Western manager for the Republican party.

Congressman Langley and Robinson, of Kentucky, and John McHilton, a personal friend, were with him when he died. He had remarked that he was feeling better and started to sit up, it was said, when death came. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made. Mr. Hert is survived by a widow.

Alvin Tobias Hert was born April 8, 1865 at Owensburg, Ind., a son of William and Isabel Hert, of Virginia stock, who had moved from Crab Orchard, Ky., and opened a general store at Owensburg. His father was born in Barren County, Ky. Mr. Hert was educated in the public schools of his native town and Bloomfield Academy.

As a boy "Tobe" Hert was noted for his brightness and self-confidence. He worked in his father's store before reaching his teens.

Beginning his business career Mr. Hert came to Louisville as a youth and obtained a position as traveling salesman for a Main Street shoe concern, Indiana being his territory. Later he traveled as a cigar salesman with Brazil, Ind., his headquarters. Opening a store at Brazil he quit his salesman position. Before he was 30 years old he was elected Mayor of the city, thus beginning his political career.

From 1895 until 1902 Mr. Hert was superintendent of the Indiana Reformatory, Jeffersonville. He organized the American Cressoting Company in 1904, opening the first plant at Shirley, Ind. In 1916 he was made Republican National Committeeman from Kentucky. He was Western campaign manager for Charles Evans Hughes in the 1916 Presidential race.

Re-elected National Committeeman from Kentucky in 1920, Mr. Hert was a leader in the national convention that year and instrumental in the nomination of Senator Warren G. Harding. He was a member of the Republican Executive Committee of five and adviser of Will H. Hays in the management of President Harding's campaign. He recently declined appointment as Ambassador to a foreign country or as the President's representative on the Government Reorganization Committee. He was mentioned for a seat in President Harding's Cabinet.

Mr. Hert was married in Bedford, Ind., November 20, 1893, to Miss Sally Aleay. From the time their joint capital established a little business in Indiana until his death Mr. Hert never took a business or political step without advising with her. His other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Harold L. Arnold, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Grace Fields, Bloomfield, Ind., and two nephews, Stanley H. Fields, Chicago, and James A. Hert, Mansville, N. J. A sister and two brothers died in recent years.

Among his extensive business positions he was president of the American Cressoting Company and allied concerns, including the Indiana, Shreveport, Colonial, Federal and Georgia Cressoting Companies, and had a supervising interest in the Canadian company. He was president of the Southern Motors Company and director of the American Security Company, New York, and the National Bank of Kentucky. He held interests in other establishments.

His memberships in organizations included the Knights Templar, Pennednis, Louisville Country Club, Chicago Club, Union League, Chicago, and Columbia Club, Indianapolis. He was a member of the Episcopal Church.

DAWSON HEADS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Danville, Ky., June 8.—W. L. Dawson, editor of the Oldham Era, La Grange, was elected president of the Kentucky Press Association at the closing session of the annual convention here this morning. G. B. Senff of the Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat was elected vice president and L. S. Fitzhugh of the Wilmore Enterprise was chosen chairman of the Executive Committee. J. C. Alcock, Danville Messenger, was elected secretary and treasurer.

The Kentucky editors honored Henry Watterson, veteran editor, by electing him to life membership. President Dawson will appoint four other Executive Committee members.

The convention received an invitation from Jackson to hold the next convention there, but selection of the meeting place was postponed. The meeting was adjourned following election of officers. This afternoon the editors are witnessing the second game of the Vanderbilt-Centre College series on Cheek Field.

"The University and the Press," by Dr. Frank L. McVey, president Kentucky University, was the first of the addresses delivered today. A round table discussion on "Advertising Rates" followed.

G. O. P. SELECTS ADAMS AS CHIEF

Washington, June 8.—Election of John T. Adams, Dubuque, Iowa, as chairman to succeed Postmaster General Will H. Hays, whose resignation was announced formally and adoption of a new basis of representing at national conventions resulting in a further cut in the number of delegates from the South, marked the meeting today of the Republican National Committee. Mr. Adams, who was vice chairman, was succeeded in that office by Ralph E. Williams, Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Leonard G. Woods, Pittsburgh, was elected second vice chairman, an office created by committee action in recognition of the women membership in the party.

The change in representation, based on the Republican votes in the last election, reduces by twenty-three the number of delegates who were accredited from the Southern States to the Chicago convention last June. This represents a cut of 17 per cent and makes a total cut of 40 per cent in the number of delegates from those States since the 1912 convention.

Oriental Power Is First To Agree
To Limitation of Expenditure on Armaments

London, June 7.—Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese representative in the League of Nations, has notified the Secretary of the league that it is the intention of the Chinese Government to give effect to the league assembly's recommendation concerning limitation of expenditure on armaments.

The League of Nations, at the assembly conducted in Geneva last December, recommended that the Powers limit their expenditures on armaments during the next two years to their appropriations for that purpose during the last year.

China is the first nation to notify the league secretariat officially of an intention to adopt the assembly's recommendation.

TWO YEARS FOR STEALING CHICKENS NOT EXCESSIVE

Frankfort, Ky., June 7.—The court of appeals today, in affirming the Fayette circuit court in the case of the Commonwealth against Robert Turner, convicted and sentenced to two years for chicken stealing, held that the punishment was not cruel nor excessive. Turner had been convicted twice before on a similar charge but he contended that the punishment was contrary to the constitution in that it was "cruel and excessive."

The court refused to grant the writ of errors in the case of Thomas Cloninger, convicted and sentenced in the Harlan circuit court for the murder of John Callahan, at Baxter, holding that the court had not erred in its instructions. Cloninger was given a life term in prison and the verdict was affirmed.

SIMS' SPEECH STIRS DENBY; ASKS REPORT

Secretary of Navy Demands
Truth of Admiral's Attack
of Sinn Feiners

Washington, June 8.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, president of the Naval College at Newport, who had command of the American naval forces in England during the World War, was called on today by Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy Department, to report immediately by cable whether he was correctly quoted in a speech delivered by him yesterday at London in which he is credited with having made a caustic comment on Sinn Fein activities.

The Admiral's speech was delivered at a luncheon given at the English-speaking Union in London, and this is the second time that the Admiral has been on the verge of being dealt with by way of reprimand for utterances at London. The other time was in 1910 when in a speech at the Guild Hall in London, Admiral Sims, then only Commander Sims made his now famous "blood is thicker than water" speech.

Statement Amazes Denby
In his cablegram to Admiral Sims, sent today, Mr. Denby stated that he had "read with amazement" accounts of the Admiral's speech, and ordered him to inform the department "immediately by cable" whether he had made the statements attributed to him.

OUTBREAK OF OLD FEUD FEARED

Frankfort, Ky., June 7.—Complying with the request of County Judge J. D. Tuggle that troops be sent to Barbourville, where it is reported that the White-Bailey feud has broken out, Adjutant-General Jackson Morris to-day ordered Major James K. Dillon, of London, to proceed to Barbourville with as many men as he can gather on short notice.

General Morris was notified that the fighting started this morning, and the report said one man had been killed and a number wounded. He was notified that Sheriff Rea Black had resigned and that it was feared there would be a fresh outbreak of fighting to-night.

Major Dillon and his men reached Barbourville late to-day. Although he had meager information concerning the fighting, General Morris believes that the troops will be able to handle the situation. Major Dillon, he said, will take 25 men with him, and if it should become necessary he will send more men to Barbourville.

Barbourville, Ky., June 7.—What is believed to be another chapter to the Bailey-White difficulty was added here to-day when William Lee, supposedly a friend and supporter of the Baileys, was shot and killed. Barton S. Reid, who was a Lieutenant during the World War, is being sought on a murder charge.

Lieutenant Reid is said to be a distant relative of Beverly White, who was killed several weeks ago by John Bailey.

Meanwhile John Bailey, who April 7, was credited with renewing the feud of 20 years between the Baker and White families, when Beverly White was shot and killed in Knox County, remains in jail in Louisville.

He was brought here, the authorities say, to remove him from the jurisdiction of friendly court influences, which the state said it had reason to believe would have released him on motion for bail and habeas corpus proceedings.

BUMPER WHEAT CROP EXPECTED

Washington, June 8.—The country's combined winter and spring wheat crop promises to be 43,000,000 bushels larger than last year's based on forecasts of production announced today by the department of agriculture. There will be smaller crops of oats, barley and hay than were harvested last year, while the apple crop will not be half so large as that of 1920 and the peach crop will be much smaller than last year.

Winter wheat came through May in bad shape in several of the important producing states and as a result the forecast of production showed a reduction of 51,000,000 bushels.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN $25,000 FIRE AT PADUCAH, KY.

Paducah, Ky., June 8.—A throng of persons assembled to watch a performance on a tight wire were spectators at an entirely different performance last night. This consisted of a $25,000 fire in which four persons were injured and several thrilling rescues effected.

The blazing structure was the Campbell Building, from which a wire had been stretched to the Palmer Hotel for the tight wire performance. Hanging by feet and hands from a third story window, Rice Hockensmith, 55 years old, railroad engineer, finally was forced to drop when the flames began licking his hands. He fell on a mattress previously thrown down by himself, which spectators held to catch him. His hands were burnt and he was bruised.

Others injured were Roscoe Wiggington, 27, fractured arm and ankle and burns about the body; Miss Lottie Pillow, 24, fractured arm and bruises, and Mrs. Iva Williams, 25, fractured hip and face bruises.

The fire started on the stairway between the second and third floors, trapping those rooming on the top floor. Four of them escaped by dropping through an air shaft to the second floor.

F. W. GALBRAITH KILLED IN AUTO

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—F. W. Galbraith, Jr., Cincinnati, National commander of the American Legion, was killed instantly and two others injured when the automobile in which they were riding went over a twenty-foot embankment here early this morning.

Henry Ryan, of Indianapolis, National director of Americanism of the American Legion, and Milton Forman, of Chicago, National committeeman of the legion from Illinois, were the other occupants of the car. They were not seriously hurt.

"LOST TRAIN" BACK AT STARTING POINT

Hutchinson, Kan., June 8.—Passengers who boarded a Santa Fe westbound train here last Friday for Denver still were enroute for that city today, passing through Hutchinson again last night on the same train after being rerouted through four States back to the starting point because of the flood. It was known to railroad officers as the "lost train."

Mr. Adams, who was vice chairman, was succeeded in that office by Ralph E. Williams, Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Leonard G. Woods, Pittsburgh, was elected second vice chairman, an office created by committee action in recognition of the women membership in the party.

The change in representation, based on the Republican votes in the last election, reduces by twenty-three the number of delegates who were accredited from the Southern States to the Chicago convention last June. This represents a cut of 17 per cent and makes a total cut of 40 per cent in the number of delegates from those States since the 1912 convention.

CHINA IN LINE

Oriental Power Is First To Agree To Limitation of Expenditure on Armaments

London, June 7.—Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese representative in the League of Nations, has notified the Secretary of the league that it is the intention of the Chinese Government to give effect to the league assembly's recommendation concerning limitation of expenditure on armaments.

The League of Nations, at the assembly conducted in Geneva last December, recommended that the Powers limit their expenditures on armaments during the next two years to their appropriations for that purpose during the last year.

China is the first nation to notify the league secretariat officially of an intention to adopt the assembly's recommendation.

TWO YEARS FOR STEALING CHICKENS NOT EXCESSIVE

Frankfort, Ky., June 7.—The court of appeals today, in affirming the Fayette circuit court in the case of the Commonwealth against Robert Turner, convicted and sentenced to two years for chicken stealing, held that the punishment was not cruel nor excessive. Turner had been convicted twice before on a similar charge but he contended that the punishment was contrary to the constitution in that it was "cruel and excessive."

The court refused to grant the writ of errors in the case of Thomas Cloninger, convicted and sentenced in the Harlan circuit court for the murder of John Callahan, at Baxter, holding that the court had not erred in its instructions. Cloninger was given a life term in prison and the verdict was affirmed.

SIMS' SPEECH STIRS

DENBY; ASKS REPORT

Secretary of Navy Demands
Truth of Admiral's Attack
of Sinn Feiners

Washington, June 8.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, president of the Naval College at Newport, who had command of the American naval forces in England during the World War, was called on today by Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy Department, to report immediately by cable whether he was correctly quoted in a speech delivered by him yesterday at London in which he is credited with having made a caustic comment on Sinn Fein activities.

The Admiral's speech was delivered at a luncheon given at the English-speaking Union in London, and this is the second time that the Admiral has been on the verge of being dealt with by way of reprimand for utterances at London. The other time was in 1910 when in a speech at the Guild Hall in London, Admiral Sims, then only Commander Sims made his now famous "blood is thicker than water" speech.

Statement Amazes Denby
In his cablegram to Admiral Sims, sent today, Mr. Denby stated that he had "read with amazement" accounts of the Admiral's speech, and ordered him to inform the department "immediately by cable" whether he had made the statements attributed to him.

OUTBREAK OF OLD

FEUD FEARED

Frankfort, Ky., June 7.—Complicating with the request of County Judge J. D. Tuggle that troops be sent to Barbourville, where it is reported that the White-Bailey feud has broken out, Adjutant-General Jackson Morris to-day ordered Major James K. Dillon, of London, to proceed to Barbourville with as many men as he can gather on short notice.

General Morris was notified that the fighting started this morning, and the report said one man had been killed and a number wounded. He was notified that Sheriff Rea Black had resigned and that it was feared there would be a fresh outbreak of fighting to-night.

Major Dillon and his men reached Barbourville late to-day. Although he had meager information concerning the fighting, General Morris believes that the troops will be able to handle the situation. Major Dillon, he said, will take 25 men with him, and if it should become necessary he will send more men to Barbourville.

Barbourville, Ky., June 7.—What is believed to be another chapter to the Bailey-White difficulty was added here to-day when William Lee, supposedly a friend and supporter of the Baileys, was shot and killed. Barton S. Reid, who was a Lieutenant during the World War, is being sought on a murder charge.

Lieutenant Reid is said to be a distant relative of Beverly White, who was killed several weeks ago by John Bailey.

Meanwhile John Bailey, who April 7, was credited with renewing the feud of 20 years between the Baker and White families, when Beverly White was shot and killed in Knox County, remains in jail in Louisville.

He was brought here, the authorities say, to remove him from the jurisdiction of friendly court influences, which the state said it had reason to believe would have released him on motion for bail and habeas corpus proceedings.

BUMPER WHEAT

CROP EXPECTED

Washington, June 8.—The country's combined winter and spring wheat crop promises to be 43,000,000 bushels larger than last year's based on forecasts of production announced today by the department of agriculture. There will be smaller crops of oats, barley and hay than were harvested last year, while the apple crop will not be half so large as that of 1920 and the peach crop will be much smaller than last year.

Winter wheat came through May in bad shape in several of the important producing states and as a result the forecast of production showed a reduction of 51,000,000 bushel.

The death of Col. F. W. Galbraith, National Commander of the American Legion, has left a gap in the ranks of the faithful workers toward the goal of 100 Percent Americanism, which will be hard to fill. Col. Galbraith was a useful and respected citizen in civil life; a gallant soldier in time of war; at all times a patriot and a gentleman. His part in the recent activities of the American Legion have endeared him to the millions of ex-service men as well as the public at large. He has taken his stand flat-footed against all forms of lawlessness, Bolshevism and alien propaganda. It is deplorable that his life had to be sacrificed uselessly to the recklessness of a well-meaning, but careless friend. But he died in the service of his country and carries with him in death its loving gratitude.

The solicitude of our friend, The Hartford Republican, over the, as it seems to think, mistaken method of ascertaining the will of the party as to Democratic nominees for county offices, is, to say the least amusing. Its disapproval is doubly surprising when one recalls that the Republican party in Louisville and Jefferson County has decided to hold a nominating convention in imitation of the previously announced plan of the Democrats. To our surprise, the Republican does remember that the Republican state ticket was "recommended" by a convention in 1919. We have "heard" that it was "hand picked" previous to the convention by the Republican State Central and Executive Committee. The Democrats of Ohio County, of course, realize the faults of the convention system, but it has compensating advantages which the poor man thinks outbalance its defects. It may result in injustice in some cases; any system will; but it certainly does not penalize the aspirant for office who is too poor in this world's goods to stand the expense of two campaigns for one office. Furthermore the adoption of the convention reduces the amount of "overhead cost," which percentage of the amount of taxes collected might be used for actual, productive purposes. But perhaps the G. O. P. is not worrying about the taxpayer and his interests? Our contemporary's feeble gibe at the Democratic Committee's recommendations in the interest of harmony, deserves no reply.

The recent action of Secretary of the Navy Denby in recalling Admiral Sims, after his latest asinine performance in England meets with the approval of all loyal Americans. Sims is merely a notoriety-seeking muck-raker, of the same stripe as Harvey. Several weeks ago he disgraced the uniform he wears by hitting, in a public speech, the part played by the American Navy in the World War, at the same time magnifying the exploits of the British Navy. In his most recent outbreak he is reported to have made a caustic comment on Sinn Fein activities. Although approving, on general principles, Secretary Denby's reprimand of such an irresponsible official tattler, all well-wishers of the gallant ex-marine regret that he has been given such bad advice as to the timeliness of his rebuke. Sims' insult to all America called forth no censure, but his mere criticism of Irish activities brought him "on the carpet." Denby means well, we believe, and is making a good stratagem in actual management of the navy, but the practical politicians who constitute the power behind the throne, won't let him cut loose from partisanship. It seems to be safe enough to insult our gallant soldiers and sailors, but when you tramp on the toes of those faithful Irish hyphenates, whose election propaganda helped deceive the nation into electing Harding, you bring down the wrath of the bosses upon you.

Last week the Administration took another step on the road back to "normalcy" when Secretary Hughes adopted the policy of the Wilson Administration toward Mexico, by announcing that recognition would be extended to the Obregon Government whenever the property rights of American citizens in Mexico are properly safeguarded. This is directly in line with the plan announced last fall by Secretary of State Colby in his letter to provisional President de la Huerta, advising him that the Washington Government was ready to begin negotiations looking toward a permanent settlement of all disputes between the two countries. Prospects are bright for a speedy solution of the vexatious Mexican problem and the reaping of the benefits which are the outgrowth of the just and statesmanlike course pursued toward our weaker neighbor to the southward during the troublesome times since the end of the Diaz regime. Let us be thankful that we have at least one of the "best minds" in the Cabinet.

car and the alarm was spread broadcast. As a result the car was located in Owensboro, it having been abandoned and no trace being found of the guilty parties.

Cows Make Money for This Woman

Mrs. Robert Larkin, of Fayette County, Kentucky, has made her mark as one of the leading dairy women of the state. Her milk and butter have gained a reputation as the best which comes into the Lexington market, and her methods have been such as to make her a splendid profit from the dairy business.

Five years ago the Lowery brothers and Mrs. Larkin, who was then Miss Mary Lowery, were living on a rented farm in Fayette County and were striving pluckily to get together enough money to buy a farm. They had been tenants for ten years and had experienced the tobacco tenant's usual difficulties and handicaps, but they had kept constantly before them the fixed determination some day to have a farm of their own.

The farm on which they were living had been seriously run down by hard cropping and exploitive methods so commonly employed on farms which are rented for cash rent. It was put up for sale and the Lowery brothers bought it for $40,000. This was nearly $200 per acre, a very high price before the wartime land boom, and it meant going very heavily into debt. Today the debt has been practically discharged and the farm could be sold at much more than the price paid for it.

The writer has known the Lowerys for a number of years and is familiar with the game fight which they made and won. A big factor in the success of the undertaking was the sister, Miss Mary, and her dairy herd of 15 cows. The brothers buckled down to the work of growing tobacco, corn, wheat, truck and hogs, doing most of the work themselves. The sister milked and cared for the cows, churned the butter, bottled the milk and made daily deliveries to her customers in town. The quality of the product was so good that a favorable demand was quickly developed for the entire output of the herd.

Three years ago the sister became the wife of Robert Larkin, and later the couple rented a farm and began farming on their own account. They are still renting, but they have already a farm of their own definitely in sight. Liberty Bonds and gilt-edge mortgages now on hand and constantly being added to will be used to buy the farm when ever one which suits them is offered for sale.

That Mrs. Larkin is an unusual woman is amply proven by her accomplishments. She takes care of her cows and dairy, bottles the milk, delivers it to town in her auto every morning, and is back home by 8:30. She finds time to give the best care to her two-year-old boy, and last year she raised in the garden near the house a patch of tobacco which she sold for $400. This she invested as a nucleus of a fund which she has set aside for putting her boy through college. With all this, for the past two years she has boarded the young woman who teaches the school near her home, and she finds time to contribute substantially of her time and energy in helping with various community activities.

There are nine cows in Mrs. Larkin's present herd, and she intends to add several more soon. The cows are grades, but are excellent individuals, as is evidenced by the fact that they produce an average of 2 gallons and 3 quarts per cow daily, which is more than 50 per cent greater than the production of the average cow in Kentucky. The products of the Larkin dairy are sold for the most part to grocers, who rely upon them to supply their most discriminating customers.

The equipment of this dairy is very simple and inexpensive. The cows are kept comfortable and clean in a well-ventilated stable, but they are well fed (mostly on home-grown feeds) and receive the best of care. Absolute cleanliness is the secret of the high quality of the product. No bucket or can or other utensil which comes in contact with the milk is ever used without first being carefully washed and scalded. Mrs. Larkin follows the rule of the "Three C's" in handling her milk. She keeps it clean, cold and covered. Most of the product is now sold as whole milk, although a small amount of butter is made. The milk is bottled at the farm.

The butter-making methods employed by Mrs. Larkin differ but little from those of other careful butter-makers. A separator is used for separating the cream, and warm cream is first cooled before it is added to the main lot of cream.

Care is taken not to let the cream come in contact with undesirable odors. It is ripened with the natural butter flavor and aroma. Ice is used in hot weather to control the temperature of the cream while it is being accumulated for a churning and during the ripening and churning processes. A swing churn is used. The butter is printed in brick-shaped pound prints and wrapped in parchment paper. During the hot summer period a special point is made to churn early in the morning before it becomes hot. Mrs. Larkin employs on small scale the scientific principles of butter-making used in the manufacture of the best creamery butter, and her product is every bit as good as first-class creamery butter.

The Farmer Pays The Freight

A representative of the Transportation Department of the American Farm Bureau Federation appeared at the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearing in Denver on May 19 and presented the following statement:

"The prices of farm products are set by competitive conditions. The price of farm products is fixed at the market, and not at the farm itself. The farmer receives the market price less the freight. The manufacturer adds the freight to his cost of production. It is because the farmer must so pay the freight in every case that the increase in freight rates affected the agricultural interests of the nation so seriously. When you add to this increase in the marketing costs the unprecedented fall in prices of farm products, it becomes evident that the farmer has reached the crisis, and must be able to put his hay, grain, livestock, fruits and vegetables on the market at a less cost, if he is to avoid bankruptcy.

"The Interstate Commerce Commission can properly reduce rates, if such a reduction will mean an increased volume of traffic and the consequent increases in the net revenues of the carrier. Testimony is abundant to show that the farmer simply refuses to send his goods to market at the present level of freight rates. Attention is called to the average prices received on the farm in April, 1920, and April, 1921, as shown by the Department of Labor. Potatoes dropped from $2.96 per bushel to 79c; hogs from approximately $14 per cwt. to $9; beef cattle from $9 to $6 per cwt.; sheep from $7 to $5 per cwt.; wheat from $2.34 to $1.34 per bushel; oats from 91c to 39c per bushel; wool from 51c to 9c per lb.; beans from $4.41 to $3.98 per bushel. Potatoes, sheep, corn, oats, wool and beans are all selling today at prices less than the 1916 level.

"According to the Department of Labor statistics, farm prices are 25 per cent above pre-war (1913), and all commodities are 62 per cent above, while reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission show that railroad revenues per net ton mile are 66 per cent over 1913. "In contrast to the marked deflation in the price of farm products has been the constant increase in freight rates. The average revenue per ton per mile received by the carriers in January, 1921, is about 66 per cent higher than in 1916. The combination of this increase in rates with the drop in prices, has left the farmer helpless.

"In the Black Hills of South Dakota is produced an excellent quality of alfalfa hay. Reports to the Farm Bureau indicate that the farmers in that section find that the price at the Minneapolis and Missouri River markets will not cover the freight, cost of hauling to the station and the commission and other charges at destination. The farmer is not considering here any cost of production, but only the actual out-of-pocket cost of marketing. Montana hay naturally moves to the Minneapolis market where it secured a price ranging from $9 to $20 per ton, depending on the kind and quality. The rate from the most eastern Montana points to the Twin Cities is approximately $11.50 per ton, and from Green Falls is about $13 per ton. It is not necessary to inquire further as to why the Montana farmer does not market his hay."

Sheep Culling Campaign Planned for 10 Counties

A sheep culling campaign touching ten counties of the State will be started July 1 by the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture in an effort to assist farmers in selecting those sheep from their flocks which are the most profitable from the standpoint of wool and lamb production, according to an announcement made by R. C. Miller, who will have charge of the work. Farmers will also be given suggestions as to the proper mating of sheep. Counties which will be included in the work are Owen, Boone, Carroll, Fayette, Oldham, Jefferson and a number of counties which are to be selected in the western part of the State.

County agents in the various counties will arrange community meetings at which time extension specialists from the college will address the sheep raisers on problems confronting them. Moving pictures and lantern slides will be used to illustrate the lectures. The following day demonstrations on culling sheep will be held on a farm in the same community and farmers shown methods of selecting the most profitable animals from their flocks.

Tests Being Made To Eradicate Cattle T. B.

In order to assist farmers in isolated communities in eradicating tuberculosis from their dairy herds, the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture cooperating with the State Veterinary Department, the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry and county farm agents, has started a series of community tests in Wayne and Crittenden counties and made arrangements to carry the work into other counties, according to announcements made at the college. More than 325 animals including one or two cows from individual owners in four sections of Wayne county have already been tested while plans have been made to test 226 cows in Crittenden county. The College of Agriculture is being represented in the work by T. P. Polk, extension veterinarian.

Film Being Made of Station Dairy

Moving pictures are being made of the dairy at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station which are designed to show farmers a simple method of producing clean milk. When completed the pictures will be shown in different counties of the State. Milk produced at the station dairy is recognized as the cleanest that is sold in Lexington and the picture is designed to show farmers how they may apply similar methods of production.

Farm Bureau Gets Results In Washington

Washington, D. C., May 26.—The Legislative Office of the American Farm Bureau Federation reports as follows:

The Curtis Bill (S. B. 1837) has been reported out by the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency. It would permit the paying of 5 1/2 per cent on farm mortgage bonds, but limits the interest charge to the borrower to 6 per cent, the present rate.

President Harding has signed the Immigration Bill.

The Capper-Volstead Co-operative Marketing Bills have shown very little progress. The Senate Judiciary Committee holds the Volstead Bill and probably will not report it out without the amendments carried last session, which made the bill useless to agriculture. The Capper Bill is before the Senate Committee on Agriculture. It may show some signs of life in the near future. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska is working hard to secure this legislation. All farm organizations are joining in an effort to have the bill reported out of the Agricultural Committee.

The Senate Post Office and Post Roads Committee is still holding hearings on the Townsend Highway Bill. The House Roads Committee will probably open hearings on the Dowell Bill May 28. The Farm Bureau favors the Dowell Bill.

The Permanent Tariff Bill will probably be reported from the Ways and Means Committee by June 15. Gray Silver, Legislative Representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, has appeared before the committee favoring the Curtis and other bills authorizing deposits of $50,000,000 by the Treasury in Federal Land Banks upon request of the Farm Loan Board. The initial capital of the banks was inadequate to permit their practical operation. This money will make it possible to accumulate from time to time sufficient volume of farm loan bonds to justify a general offering. Small offerings of bonds are impracticable.

The American Federation of Labor predicted before the Senate Finance Committee an unfavorable reaction against the party that puts through a general sales tax.

The conference committee has agreed on the Budget Bill, which would establish in the Treasury Department a Budget Bureau, with a director holding office for 15 years. An effort was made to have a tariff on hides and vegetable oils included in the Emergency Tariff law. The Farm Bureau is preparing to make requests for duties on these products in the Permanent Tariff Bill.

The Tinscher Bill on control of speculative grain trading is still in the Senate Agricultural Committee.

Tobacco Marketing Committee Postponed

At the request of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, which originally requested the naming of a National Tobacco Marketing Committee, President J. R. Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is deferring the appointment. The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation asks that the tobacco growers be given a longer time in which to organize their local organizations so as to render more effective support to the National Tobacco Marketing Committee, when it is appointed. When the time is ripe it is probable that a National Tobacco Marketing Conference will be called by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Indiana Federation's New Secretary

Perry Crane has been appointed secretary of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations to succeed Maurice Douglas, who resigned when appointed by Governor Warren T. McCray to serve as a member of the Public Utilities Commission of Indiana. Mr. Crane is a dairy farmer at West Lebanon, Ind., and a well known breeder of Guernsey cattle. He will assume charge of the Indiana Secretary's office on July 1.

Ohio joins the 100 Per Cent Farm Bureau column. Every one of the 88 counties in the Buckeye State has voted affiliation with the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. The other 100 Per Cent Farm Bureau States are Iowa, Indiana, New Hampshire and Delaware.

OUTLINE OF PLAN OF THE BURLEY TOBACCO GROWERS

A Similar Plan is Suggested For Growers of Other Varieties

It is proposed that growers in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and other Burley-producing states organize themselves into a co-operative marketing association upon a plan similar to that of the large commodity selling associations in California and other Western states, where co-operative marketing has been developed over a period of twenty-five years of successful operation. A non-stock co-operative Association composed of Growers Only—growers contracts unbreakable. There will be one solid organization of Burley tobacco growers, each grower signing, with all the others, an absolutely binding contract to sell through the association all the Burley tobacco which he grows for a period of five years.

The association will be without capital stock and will be operated strictly upon a non-profit basis. The main office will be at Lexington.

Members not obliged to grow tobacco

The growers will not be required to grow a given amount of tobacco—anyone of them may stop growing tobacco altogether. They are merely required to deliver to the association all the Burley tobacco they raise or have an interest in as landlord or otherwise.

Growers will receive the full sale value of tobacco less necessary operating expenses.

In return for the grower's agreement to deliver for sale through the association all the tobacco grown by him over a period of five years, the association will agree to sell such tobacco at the best prices obtainable, and return to the grower the full amount received, less actual operating expense.

There are no profits in the management of co-operative marketing associations; expenses therefore are always small. For example, the California Fruit Growers' Exchange which does a business of approximately sixty million dollars a year makes its sales at a cost to the growers of less than 3 per cent. Members will be treated alike; all receiving equal prices for the same grade of tobacco.

The tobacco of all the members will be carefully graded and sold according to the grades and classifications to be established by the association.

Prices received for tobacco of a given grade will be averaged and each grower will be paid the average price for all his deliveries of tobacco of that grade. Thus, all members of the association will receive equal prices for tobacco of like grades.

Substantial advances made to growers as tobacco is delivered to the association

As soon as a member's tobacco is graded he will be given a receipt showing the amount of each grade of tobacco he has delivered to the association, and a loan will be obtained for him equal to the loan value of his deliveries. This loan will constitute the first payment upon his crop.

Money paid over to growers as soon as sales are made

As the tobacco is sold, returns from the first sales will be used to repay the loan. After that, money as it is received from sales will be divided among the growers according to the amount of tobacco of the different grades which each member has delivered to the association.

Growers will form a subsidiary warehousing corporation

The growers through their association will organize a warehousing corporation for the receiving, grading, drying and storing of tobacco awaiting sale. This corporation will lease or purchase such warehouses and other facilities as are necessary to meet the needs of the association in every community or locality.

Preferred stock sold to anybody

The financing of the warehouse corporation will be provided by the issue of preferred stock which will be offered for sale to the investing public. In addition the association may use this stock as payment to owners of warehouses for their plants and facilities. The preferred stock will have no vote but will be a guaranteed cumulative interest at 8 per cent.

Warehouses purchased upon easy terms

The preferred stock will be sold in five classes, one class to be redeemed or repurchased at the end of each year for a period of five years. Each year a sufficient amount will be deducted or set aside from the returns on sales to buy back one class of the preferred stock. As each class is redeemed each grower will be given common stock equal to the amount of such deductions as are made from his deliveries of tobacco for the buying back of this stock.

Only growers can vote

The common stock will have all the voting power; consequently, the control of the affairs of the subsidiary warehousing corporation will be entirely in the hands of the members of the marketing association.

Amount of preferred stock issue limited

The contract provides that the amount of preferred stock thus issued for the purchase of local and district warehouses for handling and storing tobacco shall not exceed two-fifths of a cent per pound upon the tobacco handled each year.

Only growers can belong

No one not an actual grower of tobacco can be a member of the organization. As soon as a member ceases to be a grower, his membership in the organization will be automatically suspended.

Affairs in control of growers

The Burley tobacco producing area will be divided into twenty-two districts. At a special meeting the growers from the counties making up each district will elect delegates who will choose the director to represent them on the managing board. Every director must be a member-grower from the district which he represents and will be subject to the will of the members electing him.

All growers will have equal representation

All districts shall include as nearly as can be made possible, the same estimated production, but no county can be divided between two districts. If in any year, the membership gains of particular districts are materially larger than those of other districts; there will be a reapportionment made by the board of directors in order to maintain approximately equal representation of the districts.

One man—one vote

Every member of the association will have only one vote; consequently a fully democratic type of organization will be provided.

Local branches will be maintained

Every district, county and central locality shall have its own informal local branch of the organization, and in addition to the regular board of directors each district will have its own set of officers who may attend directors' meetings and advise with them in the conduct of the association's affairs.

A strong organization or no organization

Signatures to the growers' marketing agreement covering at least 75 per cent of the total production of Burley tobacco must be secured by November 15, 1922, or all of the contracts signed up to that time will be automatically cancelled. This will insure an organization big enough to be a really dominant factor in the market at all times.

May start with 1921 crop

A strong effort will be made to obtain the necessary 75 per cent of the crop by November 15, 1921. If the committee is successful the organization will handle this year's crop.

Inferior tobacco sold separately

If a grower delivers to the association any tobacco of quality too poor to be sold with any of the established grades, such tobacco will be sold separately and the grower will receive only the actual price obtained upon such separate sale.

Facts about California Co-operative Marketing Associations

The State of California has twenty-two state-wide commodity marketing associations, representing a membership numbering eighty thousand, and doing an annual business of approximately $300,000,000 per year.

The plan was started twenty-six years ago

The oldest of these marketing associations is the California Fruit Growers Exchange, which handles oranges, lemons and grapefruit. It was organized twenty-six years ago, starting business with approximately 23 per cent of the state's total production. This amount has increased steadily until at the present time 70 per cent of the entire crop of the state is sold through the association, which now has about eleven thousand members, and did a business of $60,000,000.00 last year.

Purchasing combines no barriers

About six large cannery companies have always bought most of the cannery pears in the Pacific Coast states. Last year the California Pear Growers' Association received from the canneries a price which netted the members about $105 per ton for their pears. Unorganized growers in Oregon and Washington sold their pears of similar variety and grade to some of the same cannery companies at prices varying from $35.00 to $50.00 per ton.

With the exception of vegetables and some soft fruits, practically 75 per cent of the entire agricultural industry of California is organized on a commodity marketing basis. The alfalfa growers, the rice growers, the lima bean growers, the common bean growers, the olive growers, the poultry producers, the honey producers, the dairymen and many other classes of farmers all have their commodity marketing associations.

Organize Burley tobacco on the California Plan

There are certain cooperative principles which the successful California associations have developed. The Co-operative Burley Tobacco Association will be organized upon the California plan.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, etc.

TREATY OF AMITY AND COMMERCE PROPOSED

Mexico Asked to Agree to Safeguard Rights of Property in That Country

Washington, June 7.—The American government has proposed a treaty of amity and commerce with Mexico, it was announced today, at the state department, in which Mexico will agree to safeguard the rights of property in that country held by American citizens. The signing of the treaty automatically would accomplish recognition of the Mexican government.

Formal announcement of the administration's policy toward the Southern republic was made after the subject had been discussed at the regular cabinet meeting. President Harding and his advisors had before them a communication from President Obregon relating to the proposed treaty, which was presented to the Mexican government by George T. Summerlin the American charge at Mexico City, on May 27.

Obregon's Reply Withheld

The text of Obregon's reply has been withheld and administration officers decline to comment as to the relation to it of the announcement of policy made public by Secretary Hughes. It is understood, however, that Obregon referred to the negotiations which are proceeding with Mr. Summerlin and indicated a willingness to carry them forward. It is known that he has summoned to the capital Ministers Calles and De La Huerta, who are reported to have counselled against the signing of such a treaty at a Mexican cabinet conference held after it had become known in Mexico City that a treaty of this character would be proposed by the United States.

Secretary Hughes' announcement contained no reference to the attitude assumed by President Obregon, but it did say that if Mexico did not contemplate a confiscatory policy with regard to property the American government could "conceive of no possible objection to the treaty."

Provisions of Treaty

It was stated that the proposed treaty contained "the conventional stipulations as to commerce and reciprocal rights in both countries that it provided for the conclusion of a convention for the settlement of claims for losses of life and property, and also a provision for a 'just settlement of boundary matters.'"

BRITISH FREIGHT VESSEL CRASHES INTO AN ICEBERG

New York, June 8.—Reports received here and at Halifax that the unnamed steamer which today crashed into an iceberg off the Newfoundland Coast was the British freighter Seapool set at rest fears entertained in shipping circles for the safety of several large passenger vessels near the ice field.

When the first S. O. S. came out of the Mid Atlantic, the Titanic disaster, was recalled and first thoughts were of passenger craft. Rumors flew thick and fast concerning the French Line steamer Rochambeau, based on a report received from her last night that she had sighted ice off the North Atlantic coast, and several erroneous reports were circulated that she had met with trouble.

The Associated Press, which had these baseless reports, did not, however, circulate them.

First reports of the accident received at the Boston Navy Yard indicated that the distress call was from a ship equipped with a continuous wave transmitter. There was some doubt as to whether the Rochambeau was so equipped.

Then a private advice received here named the Seapool, and it was established that she carried a transmitter of this kind.

Later Arthur P. Henderson, traffic manager of the French Line, issued a statement saying no reports had been received from the Rochambeau that she was in trouble, and that he believed she had gone south to avoid the ice field.

STATE FAIR DOES NOT WANT ANY COMPETITION

Louisville, Ky., June 7.—The State Fair board at a meeting here today scored the Louisville Live-stock exchange for its proposal to stage a private show and sale of fat and feeding cattle in Louisville during state fair week. It is alleged that such a show would interfere with the cattle shows held at the fair grounds. The resolution adopted said that "if all private business organizations were to hold sales and shows apart from the one real public exhibit afforded by the taxpayers during state fair week, the whole object would be defeated and ultimately its purposes which are of state-wide benefit, would have to be abandoned."

The resolution thanked newspapers which have supported the board in its various projects naming specifically the Lexington Leader.

POLICE OFFICIALS SUE

Louisville, June 7.—Right of the Police Department to take the photographs and Bertillon measurements of men accused of crime before they are found to be guilty was called into question to-day when Harry Lewiston filed suit in Circuit Court against Mayor Smith, member of the Board of Public Safety, Colonel Ludlow Petty, Chief of Police; William H. De Forrester, Chief of Detectives, and Robert Emmet Wooten, in charge of the Bertillon system at police headquarters.

He seeks to enjoin the defendants "from taking his photograph, finger prints and measurements for the purpose of distributing them broadcast throughout this country."

KY. ROAD WORK OUT OF POLITICS, MORROW SAYS

Governor Declares Road-Building in Kentucky Calls For $70,000,000

Louisville, Ky., June 7.—Governor Morrow, speaking in the interests of good roads throughout Kentucky today at the initial session of the annual good roads convention, under the auspices of the Kentucky State Road Engineer's association, asserted that "the good roads department will be kept out of politics for the sake of good roads."

"The good roads department was made and built outside of politics, and," he declared, "it is my intention to keep it out of politics, to keep it working decently, that it may receive the care, interest and thought that it demands."

"This year there will be built five times as much road as ever was built before in the state in the same period. The road-building program of Kentucky necessitates an outlay of between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000."

"Every single line of endeavor in Kentucky—prosperity—depends on good roads. Better lines of communication lead to better rural schools and better education. You must have good roads traversing the entire state, that here may flow the commerce, business—the life blood of the state. The spirit is born that will bring all this," he concluded.

Merritt Drane, Jefferson county, president of the association, in introducing Governor Morrow, explained that he was obliged to address the convention today instead of Wednesday because of a degree to be conferred by a university.

Among the thirty-five machinery exhibits at the armory there were twice made-in-Owensville displays. The exhibit embraces everything from tractors to gravel piles and farm implements and machinery.

Mayor Smith welcomed the delegates, county judges, contractors and engineers, representing every county in the state. County Judge Wm. Krieger and Mrs. Charles P. Weaver responded.
